Celebrity Style Profile: Natalie Portman

Wardrobe: At the tender age of 25, Natalie Portman is one of the youngest style icons to hit the red carpet. Women both young and old follow her look because of its cool sophistication, edgy modernism and simple femininity. Her life as a star started at a very young age and has since come a long way from her Mohawk rocking days.

Natalie favors designers Zac Posen (her best buddy), Marc Jacobs, Jill Stuart and Lanvin who all adorn her with interesting, edgy styles. On the red carpet, she has a penchant for the 20s inspired silhouette with a modern twist. Drop-waisted dresses, flapper-influenced designs and mid length A lines show off her petite, feminine figure with an elegance that is a bit refined for someone her age. Her overall chicness is reminiscent of fashion great Audrey Hepburn.

Natalie likes to add pretty accents to her looks with frills, ruffles, chiffon fabric to keep that girly image. She also loves "happy" colors--buttery yellow, deep purple or bright turquoise--that help achieve her goal of soft femininity.

During the day, Natalie keeps it chic and simple with jeans, bright tops and always a pair of sneakers (converse) or low heeled pumps. This strict vegetarian's fashion no-no's include leather accessories, bags and shoes. In fact, she is known to wear Mary Janes by Charmone and Beyond Skin shoes.

Natalie's style isn't just in her clothes but in her attitude. Whether she's walking down the red carpet or hanging out with her Harvard buddies, Natalie ensures that she is always poised, elegant and simply sophisticated.

Hair: Natalie's hair has often made the fashion headlines. Adventurous seems too tame a word to describe it, but Natalie is one who likes to go with the flow. She's rocked a Mohawk, fashioned a bob, donned long and short curls, sported the pixie cut, and even wore her hair without hair! Currently, her short hair style gives her an effortless chic quality.

Makeup: Natalie likes to keep her look fresh. She rarely wears makeup in the day other than lipstick. For the red carpet she loves to add some sexiness with smudged, smoldering eyes and uses plums and reds to create rosebud lips. One of her favorite brands of makeup is Stila, which has a plum shade named after her called "Natalie."

Essentials: Mid-length dresses; Roaring Twenties-inspired drop waists; loose fits; frills; happy colors.
