

WELL-HEELED

Charmoné Shoes originated when designer Jodi Koskella's friend Lauren Carroll had the idea to create sexy, eco-friendly, vegan shoes after hearing someone complain that anything eco or vegan lacked style and quality. "At the time, no one else was doing this, and we thought, 'Why not?'" says Koskella. Today, the Little Italy designer's 100 percent vegan flats, heels and boots rival styles seen in department stores and are being worn by the likes of Natalie Portman, Alicia Silverstone and Portia DiRossi. charmoneshoes.com
